

SBL

A young male presented with high grade fever for four days. Fever is associated with rigors and lasts for few hours daily. Pulse was 110/minute and temperature was 102F. O/E he was mildly anemic and jaundiced .On abdominal examination spleen was palpable one finger below the costal margin. Rest of the systemic examination is normal.